Missionary On Furlough Here

Miss Hazel Moon, nurse missionary in Nigeria for the past 22 years, has returned to her home here for furlough. She arrived Sunday evening at the Lynchburg airport. When she left Nigeria the temperature was 101 degrees. She flew to London and found 30 degree weather there Saturday night.

Miss Moon is administrator of the Baptist Medical Center, Ogbomosho, Nigeria, which has a 36-bed hospital, a grammar school, organized church, a 140 acre farm and approximately 130 leprosy patients living in dormitories.

Miss Moon is the only missionary nurse but a doctor visits one day a week. She has one Nigerian graduate male nurse assisting her. Miss Moon works with leprosy patients, tuberculosis patients and does public health work traveling to other towns and villages holding well-baby clinics and giving shots to prevent childhood diseases. The Center is located three miles from the town and there are no lights, city water or telephones. Miss Moon says their rain water is stored in underground cisterns.

Public Invited
